Contact Number:

Description of Psychologist Participation (you may use an addition sheet to provide this requested information).

8. Instructor Curriculum Vitae

NJPA requires a CV for CE program instructors. If the instructor is a licensed psychologist, please include the license number per the NJ Board of Psychological Examiners Regulations' Minimum Content of Advertising requirement - 13:42-9.3 MINIMUM CONTENT OF ADVERTISING. We ask for compliance from both in state and out of state licensed psychologists.

9. Evidence-Based Approach

CE programs must be grounded in an evidence-based approach. CE programs that are focused on application of psychological assessment and/or intervention methods must include content that is credibly supported by the most current scientific evidence. CE programs may also provide information related to ethical, legal, statutory or regulatory policies, guidelines, and standards that impact psychology.

Please check the one box that best applies to the CE content of your program.

- Program content focuses on ethical, legal, statutory or regulatory policies, guidelines, and standards that impact psychological practice, education, or research.
- Program content focuses on topics related to psychological practice, education, or research other than application of psychological assessment and/or intervention methods that are supported by contemporary scholarship grounded in established research procedure.
- Program content focuses on application of psychological assessment and/or intervention methods that have overall consistent and credible empirical support in the contemporary peer reviewed scientific literature beyond those publications and other types of communications devoted primarily to the promotion of the approach.

9. References in APA Format

At least three references must be included that are evidence based, no older than five years, and in correct APA format. Please include on a separate sheet.

10. Diversity Requirements

The New Jersey Psychological Association declares its intention to raise the consciousness of its members about issues of diversity including through NJPA CE programs. These diversity issues include, but are not limited to age and life cycle stage, gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, culture, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, ability status, language, socioeconomic status, immigration status, and level of acculturation. In addition, our intention is to increase awareness of the importance of intersectionality, of the impact of differences in power and privilege, and of how trauma and resilience are played out in relationship to these diversity issues.

In preparation for the program presentation, NJPA requires that instructors research the literature on the diversity issues related to the subject matter of the program. (Note the issues identified above as indicative of “diversity”). If the instructor finds research has been completed on how the subject matter impacts diverse groups, the instructor shall include this research within the program presentation. If the instructor finds that there is no research on how the program subject matter impacts diverse groups, the instructor shall discuss the absence of such research during the presentation.

Has the instructor investigated research on how the subject matter impacts diverse groups?

Yes No

If research has been found, please affirm the research will be discussed in the presentation.

Yes No

If no research has been found, please affirm the lack of research will be discussed in the presentation

Yes No

11. Accuracy and Utility of the Materials Presented

Instructors shall discuss the accuracy and utility of the materials presented. More specifically, that the program is based on the references provided and that it is one of a number of approaches to the particular content, or if it is experimental in nature, to specifically cite that, but not represent as the only approach. Instructors must discuss the possible limitations of the approach and the most common potential risks as well as the most severe, if any. A disclaimer will be included in promotional materials that NJPA does not endorse the presented material as the only approach to a given area of study or therapeutic approach.

12. Identification of Proprietary Information

When permission for use of proprietary information is required, NJPA and/or the instructor is required to obtain that permission in writing from the appropriate body, such as a test publisher. When a case study is presented in a workshop, which may or may not include test data, results or test items, any identifying information will be disguised in a generic manner and any test related material will likewise be disguised and collected at the close of the workshop.

13. Identification of Conflicts of Interest and Commercial Support

Co-sponsors must have a process to identify any potential conflict of interest and/or commercial support for any program offered, and they must clearly describe any commercial support for the CE program, presentation, or instructor to program participants at the time the CE program begins. Any other relationship that could be reasonably construed as a conflict of interest also must be disclosed. The promotional materials must and the instructors must disclose and explain the presence or absence of commercial support or conflict of interest at the time the CE program begins.

14. Confidentiality

The principle of confidentiality of instructional materials and participant disclosure, if any, must be maintained. When applicable, NJPA and NJPA co-sponsors should explicitly state at the beginning of the program that confidential material may be discussed, and should review with the participants the limits of that confidentiality. See APA Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct 4.07.

15. Disclaimer to Attendees (If deemed necessary)

Workshop participants should be informed if a presentation may be particularly stressful or upsetting at the beginning of the program or in the promotional materials, as deemed appropriate by the program sponsor.

Example - This program will be covering newly enacted law New Jersey P.L.2017.c117, authorizing health care providers to engage in telemedicine and telepsychology. The instruction will be on the exact language of the law, how this will impact psychologists within New Jersey, and the current state of the regulatory language based on information from the NJ Board of Psychological Examiners.

Learning Objectives - Three Examples

1. Accurately analyze four ways telepsychology can be integrated into your psychotherapy practice as measured by personal self-assessment
2. Recognize the six key aspects of the New Jersey telepsychology law (i.e., what telepsychology is, who can perform services, how and when services can be provided, informed consent, appropriate professional relationship, and confidentiality) as measured by self-assessment
3. Implement the six key provisions of the NJ telepsychology law to practice issues, such as informed consent, assessment, documentation, medical records review, and security as measured by application to a professional case.
